OUR NEW YORK LETTER

[FROM A CORRESPONDENT OF THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Feb 20 1867

Spring approaches, and the "carnival" through which New York has been rolicking all winter, is passing to its close, as the season of lent draws near.

Those who are able to afford it—all the dear creatures who are happy in the possession of a pater familias with a long purse, and a salamandor, burglar proof safe, crammed full of bonds, stocks 5 20's, 10 40 s and coupons—have all this winter enjoyed a dashing, crashing, crashing time of it. What with sociables soirees, matinees, germans masquerades and fancy-dress balls, there may be left of those who gave themselves up to the full enjoyment of the season is not worth mentioning. Manteau makers, dress makers and milliners never before gathered such a harvest, and the dealers in human hair, and coiffure builders have run their prices higher than their periwigs and top knots. The extravagance of fashion among the ladies has reached a regular campaign as radical as the Freedmen's Bureau or Thad Stevens' reconstruction scheme. The dresses of the ladies are most singular, both in construction and expensiveness. A marked feature of the style this winter, is that tilters have passed the zenith of expansion, and have actually collapsed. But art, ever mindful of a happy balance of parts has obtained in one quarter what is lost in another.

While we are required to chronicle hoops as diminuendo, we take the liberty to observe that busts are crescendo. In fashionable ladies' toilet stores all along Broadway, one may see in great show windows, artistically arranged and displayed for sale, every conceivable article of feminine apparel, all the curious appliances of art, for bringing the female figure up to the full developed mantua-maker standard, wherever nature may have been deficient in her handiwork. There are dress makers and millinery-dames in New York by scores, fresh from Paris, with all the patterns of their plastic art, that can beat Dame Nature in setting up a form for a New York belle, and give her odds of ten to-one, any day. Stays and waists, complete for any spinal curve or a bent back, pads and "artificial calves," to make up any deficiency on shoulder, hip or limb, "palpitating bosoms," not filled with cotton, bran, or hair, but curiously crammed with flaxseed, which gently glides with every pulse, like a thing of life.

As for the head, it beggars all description. Coils, curls, frizzles, puffs, back hair, braids, wavy-witchery and waterfalls, as outrageously extravagant and expensive, as they are undeniably false and deceitful.

Dancing, which formerly did not begin before ten or eleven o'clock at night, because going to any party earlier than nine was unfashionable and vulgar, this winter begins at five or six, and at some of the latest fashioned matinees and Germans, actually commences at three P. M., and is kept up till midnight. After dancing at a matinee, the dear creatures can drive to a ball and renew their delightful figures until the wee small hours of morning. Young ladies, after a campaign, return home so crushed that little is left of their once light and beautiful gossamer dresses, save lovely rays; and mothers who wear big trains, become so trodden upon that they are sadly out of repair—the mothers and the trains. In such a plight as those present, no wonder our merry friend perpetrated at their expense, the last champagne cock-tail toast: "Why are the ladies of our party like a well sucked orange?" Surrendered all. "They are not worth squeezing."

A feature of the extravagance this winter has been the engagement of public balls and the entire suits of large houses, in which to give private balls or soirees. The party giving one of these balls is lucky if he gets off for less than $2,500, and some have cost over $5,000.

The style of ladies' walking dresses are unique—and elaborately embroidered skirt or petticoat, red and blue the prevailing colors, with a shorter dress of black silk, cut into points or scollops, or angles, reaching not much blow the knee—or where that member is supposed to be. A promenading belle looks very much as though, over her beautifully frilled or embroidered petticoat, she was wearing a very richly made short-gown, loaned for the occasion from a juvenile sister, cousin or friend. We observed on Sunday last, entering Grace Church, a surpassing rich dress of black silk petticoats and short over-skirt, in which this tonic or short gown was cut to resemble two wide black aprons, one before and one behind.

Bonnets scarcely hold their own. Small by degrees and beautifully less, any man could easily put a dozen in his overcoat pockets, and have room to spare. One style resembles exactly the half of an elongated but diminutive muskmelon, colored jet black, trimmed with the seeds and inverted on the head. Another style might easily be mistaken for a large seal ring, were it not for the extra appendages of crystal fringe around the setting. At the theater in a balcony box, one evening, we saw the most recherche bonnet of the season. By the aid of a powerful magnifying glass, we ascertained it to be composed of a postage stamp, fringed with an inch and three quarters of the costliest jet bugles, and two strings. We have since learned that the French artist who manufactured this style, furnishes to every customer purchasing a $40 hat, a bottle of neuralgia powders gratis.

A recent decision of a New York Court has revealed some curious items in a fashionable dressmaker's bill, and what it costs to live among the upper tendom. Mary Douglass sues Charley Mayer for the amount of "sundry little articles of ladies' wear," furnished to the wife of defendant within ten days from the 20th of March 1865. Among the items are a black silk basque, $184, a brown silk dress, $130, a black silk dress, $220, an embroidered mantilla, $160, a purple morning wrapper, $90, one balmoral, $28, one pair French corsets, $12, elevators, gloves, et cetera, to a total of $959 50.

The defendant, Mayer, lived on the Bloomingdale Road, a very fashionable quarter, far up town, and in defence, alleged that at the time these goods were purchased, his wife had deserted his home and gone to the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He proved that he had always furnished her with an abundance of wearing apparel, and had paid at A. T. Stewart's a single bill of his dear wife's contracting, of $2000.

Upon the re butting (as the lawyers termed it,) the plaintiff showed that the defendant lived in a mansion, the rent of which was $3000 per annum; that he sometimes kept a suit of apartments at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and stated his family expenses were over $60 per day, that the wife and sister living in the family, were always sumptuously apparelled, and that although Mrs Mayer had quitted home through a "domestic spat," a reunion was effected, and the defendant lived tranquilly once more with the "partner of his joys and sorrows."

The jury rendered a full verdict for the amount claimed, and that the articles furnished were "necessaries." Served him right.

Change is the immutable law for all things, in politics as well as in prize fiting, in opinions of constitutional law as in the latest neighborhood gossip from a Sanitory commission sociable, or a moral reform sewing society, in the drama not less than in dress, even in the style of preaching and the character of religion, as the world wears it, there are periodical revivals and periodical changes, from the simple pressure of outside opinion.

Two years ago at your moral Capitol, 'tis said, the theatre with its domestic heroes and heroines, flourished 'like a green bay tree' on Lowell canvas, and many a new fledged Forest, a Kean, or a Booth, and an undeveloped Heron, a Vestvali, or a Ristori bestride the mimic stage and 'brought down the house' with almost histrionic honors.

Anon, we hear that the sacred precincts of the pioneer church of Salem has actually suffered the modern innovation of an organ, and every Sabbath morning the ears of an expectant but devout congregation are regaled by the music of reeds and pipes.

Surely the days of Joab and the nasal melody of the pious and formal fathers are succeeded by those of Mirabeam, and the loud and lofty minstrelsy of the harp, the viol and the organ. In one age mere fashion teaches a church to believe that the music of heaven will principally consist of the plain, good old see saw style of Congregational singing, in "Mear," "Oliphant" and "Old Hundred", and that a stringed instrument is an abomination of the devil's own contrivance.

At another age, the same church, equally tenacious, holds the opinion that the anthems around the throne will be immeasurably grander, more sublime and soul inspiring than a diapason of three ten thousand organ peals heard by mortals resounding through lofty cathedral domes. Our ears and our ideas decidedly incline to the latter style. We once heard of a worthy and pious elder of the Methodist persuasion, born and reared among the pioneers of civilization, and whose lot was cast along the outposts of early missionary labors, not a thousand miles from the Willamette, who, through an eventful life of sixty summers, had never chanced to hear at church, or conference, or family altar, such a thing as a musical instrument. To him the sound of a seraphine or a melodeon, at devotional seasons, would have been equally unholy and abominable with that of a fife, a violin or a bagpipe. Within the circuit dwelt another equally worthy and pious brother, a minister, somewhat younger in years, to whom early associations had given a more liberal view of wind and strings, and who had recently added to the comforts of his home a fine Prince melodeon. Late nightfall once brought the elder to the hospitable roof of the junior brother, and on the morrow, as the morning meal was done, the household was gathered for the usual family devotions. Respect and deference to age called upon the worthy elder to read the chosen passages of Holy Writ and to select the hymn. The instrument was opened by a youthful member of the family, and suddenly its melodious swell began to fill the room.

The pious elder looked and listened; one moment of the "squeaking cupboard" was enough for him; "horror of horrors," he arose and left the room. The family worship, however, was conducted as usual, and our injured elder was found seated in an open porch, devoutly puffing the fumes of his filthy "Kinnakinick" through an old stumpy pipe, the odor from which would have scattered a bevy of dogs from a slaughter pen.

How would some meek minded but straight-jacketed Protestants of this day be shocked at beholding, every Sabbath morning, the pulpit of their pastor decorated with bouquets and wreaths of flowers. Yet such is the fashion in many of the orthodox churches of New York, and some other parts of our country. One of the most celebrated divines of Brooklyn, almost invariably has placed upon his pulpit, at morning service, a large and fresh bouquet of beautiful and fragrant flowers, and why not thus adorn the house of the Lord with His own brightest gifts of earth? In all the wide, wide world, so wonderfully filled with the ever changing but constantly recurring manifestations of the Creator's designs of order, harmony and beauty, what more than flowers attests His infinite power and goodness.

"Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow, they toil not, neither do they spin, and yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

Excuse our left handed sermonising, for the reader will observe at a glance that we have inverted all orthodox order and set the text at the conclusion of the discourse. We have not yet "taken orders," and time may temper our style, which is the theme of this homily.

The residents of the Atlantic States are beginning to open their eyes with wonder at the fact that the Pacific States are sending here not gold and silver only, but bread. That California, not yet a score of years in age, and Oregon less than half her older sister in years, should be sending hither their thousands of barrels of flour, and hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat, is a marvel New York and the Mississippi valley was not prepared for. Time was when the Columbia bar was deemed a Scylla and Charybdis to mariners. But we have to chronicle for New York harbor almost as doubtful entrance. The ship Dashing Wave, from San Francisco, (98 days) laden with a valuable cargo of wheat and copper ore, recently struck on Barnegat Shoals during a heavy fog. Although she managed to get afloat, and with the assistance of a tug, to get inside Sandy Hook, the water so gained upon the pumps that she sunk on a spit, and was made by the storm a perfect wreck. The ore can all be recovered, but the wheat will be mostly lost. The Dashing Wave was a first class ship of about 1200 tons and not insured.

On dit. Senator Corbett, of your State, who has been recently sojourning in this city awaiting the ides of March, when he will step into a six years, damask-covered, patent spring, Senatorial chair at Washington, has gone to the 'land of steady habits,' and this day makes some fair dame a Senatress. "None but the brave deserves the fair." "No," muttered an incorrigible old bachelor, "and none but the brave can live with some of them."

FLEETA FLINT.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN AS A TALKER.—In the February number of Harper's Magazine a writer, in giving sketches of "good talkers," thus alludes to the late President:

I hold that the best conversationalist among statesmen of our own day was Abraham Lincoln. The opinion may possibly be controverted by those who would think only of an apparent awkwardness of manner, and an occasional violation of the rules of polite society. But if our conversation should have for its object the promotion of the welfare of those with whom we talk, if it should be filled with truth, with kindness, with encouragement, with consolation, if a true man should sway by the influence of speech—why, then, tried by this simple standard, the late President Lincoln was an excellent conversationalist. His total abstinence from a display of egotism, his sterling sense, his varied information, his terseness of expression, his truthfulness, his "honesty," his vast good nature, his "mother wit," his immense fund of anecdote for illustration, his adaptation of himself to all companies—these made him one of the best social talkers of our times. Thus has Emerson the Great quaintly, but justly, said of him, after speaking of his manner: "He is the author of a multitude of good sayings, so disguised as pleasantries, that it is certain they had no reputation at first but as jests, and only later, by the very acceptance and adoption they find in the mouths of millions, turn out to be the wisdom of the hour. I am sure if this man had ruled in a period of less facility of printing he would have become mythological in a very few years, like Æsop or Pilpay, or one of the Seven Wise Masters by his fables and proverbs." Lincoln was thus one of the few men who swayed by the influence of speech in common conversation.

MR LEE AND HIS OPERA HOUSE.—If Mr A. H. Lee, who drew the Opera House, is not an agent of Mr Crosby, as some disappointed victims allege, he is certainly a philosopher. A Chicago paper, alluding to his visit to that city, says: The reasons for his selling the Opera House to Mr Crosby at the low price he did were stated by himself as follows: He had made Prairie du Rocher his home, and he wished to live and die there. As soon as he knew of his good fortune he determined to sell the Opera House, and that Mr Crosby should have the first opportunity of buying it. If Mr Crosby was able to buy it, he would put a reasonably low price upon upon it. The income he already had was more than he needed, and he always had a sort of a millionaire feeling. He had a sympathy for Mr. Crosby, and felt that the Opera House should not only be owned by a resident of Chicago, but that Mr Crosby should be the one. After arriving here he found that Mr Crosby could without embarrassment pay him $200,000 cash for the Opera House, that he could and would if necessary pay him more, but that he could not do it at once, and that it would embarrass him if he did. After a good deal of reflection, Mr Lee, of his own free will and accord, offered it to Mr Crosby for $200,000 cash. To use his own words: "I am as rich, any way, as I care about being, and $200,000 more is enough."

A young lady of New Jersey has had a persevering run of ill luck. In 1863 she dislocated her knee, in 1864 a careless man punched out her right eye with an umbrella; in December, 1865, she was run over by a sleigh and badly injured. A fortnight ago her pocket was picked of $150 on a Brooklyn ferry boat. Going back to hunt the money, a crowd of skylarking boys accidentally knocked her down, dislocating her hip and breaking a rib.

The dancing master of the Prince Imperial, who received the privilege of the cloak, cane, and umbrella-room at the Paris Exhibition, has sold his right to the profits of the apartments for $25,000 in gold.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 23.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Wilson offered a concurrent resolution declaring that Jeff Davis should be brought to a speedy trial or released from confinement on bail. Ordered printed.

A bill passed imposing the duty of collecting the direct tax of the Southern States on the internal revenue collectors, with no additional compensation.

The Senate concurred in the House amendment to the resolution for the appropriation of one million for the relief of the destitute in the South.

Mr Newhall called up the bill to amend the bankrupt law, repealing the provision for the appointment of registers by the Chief Justice.

Mr Anthony offered an amendment to provide that the act shall not take effect until June 1st.

The bill was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The Senate agreed to the House resolution to furnish arms to Tennessee.

A bill was passed providing for the appointment of three commissioners to examine the claims of Ohio and Indiana for expenses incurred in repelling the rebel raid. Adjourned.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The constitution of Deseret, introduced into the House by Mr Hooper, is similar to the one offered in the 37th Congress, with two exceptions. The boundaries are the same as those of Utah, and the words "free white" are omitted, giving manhood suffrage. The Legislature is prohibited from passing laws infringing on the rights of conscience or religious worship. The Herald says early action will probably be taken by Congress.

The resolution for the relief of the destitute people of the South, with the amendment adopted in Committee of the Whole, passed by 91 to 31. The amendment limits the amount expended to the sum appropriated to the Freedmen's Bureau.

A resolution demanding the removal of Collector Smythe came up. Mr. Stevens moved to amend by impeaching Smythe. After considerable debate the subject went over.

There is a considerable amount of business on the Speaker's table.

The Senate resolution to furnish arms to Tennessee sufficient for 2,500 militia was amended by increasing the number to 10,000. Passed.

Mr. Van Wyck offered a resolution forbidding the purchase of guns of large calibre till their utility has been demonstrated by experiment, and that no more Springfield muskets be altered to breech loaders. Referred to the retrenchment committee.

The proposition to impeach Collector Smythe renders a summer session probable.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Speaker Colfax has gone to Trenton to lecture. Mr. Schenk occupies the chair in his absence.

Senator Foster is not yet nominated Minister to Austria, and is still in Washington looking after his chance. His Connecticut constituents censure his apparent indifference to the approaching election. That State will oppose his confirmation.

The bill repealing the clause giving to the Chief Justice the appointment of registers of bankruptcy, will be defeated. Congress is unwilling to leave the appointment in the hands of the District Judges who would appoint mostly Democrats.

New York Custom House—British-American Confederation.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Post says it is understood that if impeached, Smythe will in justification of himself, produce a mass of evidence to show that he only followed the course of predecessors for a number of years. The President will not remove Smythe.

The New Haven papers say that the project of an international boat race at the Paris Exposition, between picked crews of the American and English Universities has been favorably received at Harvard and Yale, and the rowers chosen.

The Evening Commercial says the Canadian politicians assume that the consolidation of the provinces is a fixed fact and are busy canvassing. The British North American Provinces will join the confederation.

The Montreal Herald says that while it is gratifying to see British Columbia disposed to join the union, obstacles are in the way of its being accomplished while the central regions remain in a wilderness.

The Montreal Gazette says that Prince Rupert's Land has already taken preliminary steps to join the confederation and to extend in a direct line the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad.

A Rebel General's Opinions.

RICHMOND, March 22.—It is authoritatively announced that Gen Lee favors the calling of a convention under the military bill. He thinks every citizen not disfranchised should vote, and should co-operate to take steps to get back into the Union with such rights as are left. He thinks the prescribed oath is such as any man not disfranchised ought to take.

Southern Affairs.

CHARLESTON, March 22.—A meeting of freedmen was held last night under the auspices of the Union League. The speeches and resolutions were of the most radical character. Few whites were present.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The correspondent of the Times from South Carolina and the Washington specials, show that the movement of Mr Hampton and others in cooperation with the blacks, was misinterpreted. Marsh, the principal colored speaker, denounced the Unionists as "skulkers" and "traitors," and the poor whites as "sand hill crackers." He receives a salary from the Hampton party to work against the radicals' league. Pickett and other speakers are supported by contributions from rich whites.

Miscellaneous

NEW YORK, March 22.—A committee of the Common Council report in favor of reconsidering the proposition to sell a portion of the City Hall Park for $500,000 for a site for the Post Office.

The Roberts Senate of the Fenian Brotherhood considered a proposition of the union with the Gleason branch yesterday. They are willing to unite and send supplies to Ireland, if a revolution is really in progress there, but will not relinquish the movement on Canada.

The storm of Thursday was the severest known in five years.

The Herald says, that Sir Frederick Bruce has been informed by the British Government that the sentences of the Fenian prisoners in Canada will be remitted.

The Times' says Gen Howard testified before the Judiciary Committee concerning the restoration of rebel property. The President notified them to institute a policy entirely different to the one originally proposed by him.

The Tribune says Gen' Saxton in his testimony, said he had acted under direct orders from the President. The amount of property restored was very large, consisting of homes and lands abandoned by rebels. All the property in the hands of treasury agents, seized during the rebellion, which had been turned over to Gen Saxton, was surrendered to the rebels by order of the President. The committee have gone fully into the question. The evidence already elicited shows that a hundred millions o property was turned over to the rebels without the warrant of law.

The Times says the inquiry into the loyalty of Senator Thomas is postponed until December.

The Times denies the reports that L. W. Jerome has failed or sold his interest in the Times newspaper, or made any assignment.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 25 1867

Something that a Professedly Wise Man "Never Heard of Before"

It was a habit with old Nestor whenever he rose in council to harangue the Greeks, to introduce his remarks with a long recital of his own deeds of valor, and with a piece of lofty declamation in praise of his own unequaled wisdom As he was a man of great age, so he modestly thought he knew more than all others about him In all times he has had many imitators, and in these days it often happens that we find persons who lay claim to superior wisdom, without however, possessing the ability to support their pretensions so well as did the old braggart of Pylos Of this remark, the editor of the Copperhead organ of this city affords an illustration With all his pretended learning and wisdom, he confesses that he never knew that the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the bonds and securities of the General Government are not taxable by a State. A few days since we stated that such decisions had been repeatedly made whereupon he remarks, with every appearance of profound astonishment, that he "never heard of it before." That is very probable There are doubtless several things relating to the history of the country that he "never heard of" But he does recollect "one case involving the question whether National Bank stock, based upon Government bonds was taxable, and that decision was in the affirmative." Will he cite this case? Will he state where it is reported? We unhesitatingly affirm that no decision of the kind has been made by the Supreme Court of the United States, and we defy any one to produce the evidence that such a judgment was ever rendered by that tribunal. But many decisions of the opposite character have been made, and this notwithstanding the learned person alluded to "never heard of them."

With that assurance which can proceed alone from ignorance and bigotry, he says: "We know of no State which has attempted to tax Government bonds, and until such an attempt is made and resisted, we do not understand enough of law to know how a case could be made before the Supreme Court" Probable again. Nothing could be more reasonable than the supposition that he "knows of no State which has attempted to tax Government bonds," or that he has no knowledge whatever of this question in any of its bearings. No confession of the kind was necessary on his part. How could a person who, as we showed, knew nothing about Jefferson, the father of his own party, be expected to have a knowledge of a subject like this? But though he "knows of no State which has attempted to tax Government bonds," such an attempt, strange as it may seem to him, has been made, The Legislature of Maryland, sometime prior to 1819, enacted that if any bank should be established in that State without authority had and obtained from the State, such banks should issue no notes except of certain denominations, nor indeed of any denomination unless on paper stamped by the State. A branch of the National Bank was established at Baltimore, and forthwith the question arose whether the State could tax its issues. The case reached the Supreme Court of the United States. (McCulloch vs The State of Maryland, 4 Wheaton, 416.) Chief Justice Marshall delivered the opinion. It was held that Congress has power to incorporate a bank; that the bank of the United States has a right, constitutionally, to establish its branches within any State, that a State cannot, without violating the Constitution, tax that branch, that the State governments have no right to tax any of the constitutional means employed by the Government of the Union to execute its powers, and therefore "that the States, consistently with the Constitution, cannot tax the stocks of the United States."

In 1819 in the Legislature of Ohio passed an act to tax the stock of the branches of the United States bank in that State. The right of the State to do this was contested, and a case involving this question was brought before the Supreme Court of the United States in 1824. (Osborn vs U. S. Bank, 9 Wheaton; 738) The decision rendered was similar to that made in the Maryland case above quoted. But the editor of the "organ" "never heard" of these cases before. He "knows of no State which has attempted to tax United States bonds." Truly, here's an intelligent "veteran journalist."

An ordinance was once passed by the City Council of Charleston, South Carolina, making bonds of the United States, among other things, taxable. The owners of the bonds applied for a prohibition to restrain the City Council from taxing them. The prohibition was granted, but the Superior Court of the State reversed the order, and the case went to the Supreme Court of the United States (Weston vs. City Council of Charleston, 2 Peters, 449.) The Court held that the stock could not be taxed either by a State or a corporation.

In 1862 the Bank of Commerce in the city of New York rendered its statement of the valuation of property which the tax commissioners held was liable to taxation. Of this capital, about $400,000 was invested in real estate, and the balance of about $8,000,000, in stocks and securities of the United States. The tax commissioners reported the bank as subject to assessment for this whole sum, without regard to its being invested in the securities of the United States. The Courts of the State held that the bonds were liable to taxation. The case was then taken up to the Supreme Court of the United States, the decisions of the State Courts were reversed, and the doctrine of the Supreme Court in former cases reaffirmed. (Bank of Commerce vs. New York City, 2 Black, 620.) The case of the Bank of the Commonwealth vs. the Commissioner of Taxes, in which the same questions were raised as in the last case, was also heard and decided at the same term of the Supreme Court, and in the same way.

But it is needless to multiply cases further The Court, in the cases above cited, reviewed the whole subject in a most exhaustive manner, and decided that the bonds, stocks and securities of the United States, could, under no circumstances, be taxed by a state or a corporation It pronounced the legislation of States which attempted to impose such tax, unconstitutional, and showed that such legislation was in contravention of the powers of the General Government In the cases adjudicated the subject was discussed in all its phases, it was considered with reference to the peculiarities of every case that has arisen or that is likely to arise; and the result was always the same The law, then, is that Government bonds cannot be taxed by a State, and it is high time for that party which professes so much reverence for the Supreme Court to cease insisting that they shall be subject to taxation. And if the mass of that party is as ignorant on this subject as the editor of the "organ,"—if like him, they "never heard of this before," they would do well to cease reading his illiterate twaddle and consult standard authorities for their information.

The Golden Era of San Francisco professes to be a "literary paper," but if there is a meaner Copperhead organ in that city than it, we have never seen it. Nine tenths of its editorials are merely feeble repetitions of the articles of abler Copperhead papers."

At the late city election in Sacramento the Union ticket was elected by an average vote of two and a half to one.

Philadelphia is about to build $1,000,000 worth of new school houses.

The Enterprise says A man just returned from a ride through portions of this county, and the adjoining county of Washington, says the farmers appear to be as busily engaged as though wheat was worth $2 per bushel This is right It will not do to farm hap-hazard in this country Much plowing has been done, and the prospect is for an increased area to be sown in grain this season Fall wheat looks magnificent

We are informed, says the Dalles paper, that the contract for the transportation of Government freight to Camps Watson and Logan was awarded to C M Lockwood, Esq, of this city He agrees to deliver freight at Camp Watson for two cents and eight mills per pound and to camp Logan for three cents and nine mills per pound The Boise and Colville contracts were awarded to John Creighton Esq From Wallula to Fort Boise at five and ninety-eight hundredths cents per pound and to Fort Colville at five cents and six mills per pound

Says the Albany Democrat Abraham Miller, Jr, living near Albany, has laid on our table for inspection a specimen of lead and silver ore weighing two and a half pounds It is from the mine in this county, east of the Santiam river, known as the Sherman Lead We have no data by which to determine the relative proportion of lead and silver it contains but that it is very rich in both none can doubt after an examination From facts in our possession we have but little doubt that there are mines in Linn county rich in gold, silver and lead, and perhaps copper

The Mountaineer obtains the following by the Canyon City stage The Indians are again on the war path notwithstanding the chastisement they have received lately From Bridge creek all the way to Canyon—both on his up and down trips—the Indian sign was very fresh On Sunday night they made a raid on Officer's ranch, on the South Fork, and also on Brackett's ranch, on Cottonwood, from both of whom they stole a lot of cattle Officer, with a small party, started out in pursuit, up the South Fork, when seeing too many fires they returned home Col Baker started out on Sunday morning with twenty men, on a scout, hoping that they might intercept the party of Indians that stole the pack train last week. Capt Berry has returned from the North Fork, without finding any Indians, though they saw plenty of Indian signs The weather at Canyon City is still too cold for mining operations

The State Rights Democrat is justly indignant because a bill was lately reported in the New York Legislature to "regulate prostitution and assignation houses." But the Democrat, though it seized the occasion to expatiate on "Radical morality," did not inform its readers that the proposition was voted down by an overwhelming majority. No doubt it was the Democratic members from that modern Sodom, New York City, who brought in this bill. They probably had in view the example of Thomas Jefferson, who insisted that one of these dens of infamy should be established and kept up at the University of Virginia, as one of the attractions of that seat of learning

Wicked "Copperhead" papers are laughing over Mr. Sumner's resolution for preventing "the further introduction of coolies into this hemisphere or the adjacent islands." The scope of it is rather comprehensive, it must be admitted But it may perhaps be considered only a liberal extension of the Monroe doctrine, for if the destinies of the western continent are in our hands, why not the entire hemisphere? and New Guinea and Australia are too near the outskirts of our hemisphere to be permitted to indulge in incongruous institutions. Indeed what better are the small patches on the other side, called Europe, Asia and Africa, than islands adjacent to this hemisphere? It has an expansive influence on the American mind to take this large view of things.

LIQUOR CONSUMPTION.—It is estimated that there are annually consumed in the United States 42,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits, 186,000,000 gallons of fermented liquors, and 10,000,000 gallons of imported liquors, the value of all which is said to be $500,000,000 This estimate does not include an immense quantity that is secretly distilled.

SAN FRANCISCO ASSAYING

AND

REFINING WORKS.

No. 416 Montgomery Street,

(Successors to Kellogg, Hewston & Company)

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000!

Directors:

JOHN PARROTT. CHAS E McLANE,
WM C. RALSTON, A HAYWARD,
LOUIS A CARNETT.

LOUIS A CARNETT ..... President and Manager.
JOHN HEWSTON Jr ... Chemist and Superintendent.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS

One-eighth of one per cent (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,600 and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty four hours

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent, for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent, on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty-four hours

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS,

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce

On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce

On bullion from 750½@949½ parts gold, 5 cents per ounce

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars

FOR COINING GOLD.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent—and which is paid by us to that institution But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY EIGHT HOURS

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express

CHARGES AT U S BRANCH MINT

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 750½@830 parts gold 11 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 830½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent, and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ¼ of one per cent—they must be sold at the following [illegible] rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage

850 par to equal Mint return at refining charge of 14 cents

846 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents

865 par to equal San Francisco A & R Works return, at refining charge of 5 cents mh1d2p3m

TURN VEREINS.—The Portland Turn Verein Society we are informed, is about to take steps to send a block of stone to be used in the building of a monument at Berlin, to the founder of the order, Frederich Ludwig Jahn. The Turn Vereins have had an organized existence of fifty eight years, the first school or society having been founded by Jahn at Berlin, in 1809 His object at that time was to educate the youth of Prussia to endure the hardships of war The gymnasia as taught by him became popular and soon spread throughout Germany whence the Turnkunst, or the system now prevailing in the United States, was derived It came here with the German immigration of 1848 and the first society was organized in the city of New York but they soon spread [illegible] there was any considerable lodgement of Germans, till now, there is hardly a city of respectable size but has its society of Turners The original organization only contemplated physical development but later, libraries have been collected schools established and several newspapers founded, whose particular care was given to the cultivation of the order If we may call it that The several local organizations have more or less interests in [illegible], which are regulated by annual meetings of delegates. Most of them have annual festivals, some of which are general while others belong to districts or to single organizations The idea of the Zouave military organization and drill was borrowed from the Turners

VANCOUVER ITEMS —From the Register of the 23d we take the following items The District Court is still in [illegible] but has nearly concluded the docket The Union County Central Committee has changed the time of holding the primary elections from Saturday March 30th, to April 1st, 1867 Tom Wilson convicted of highway-robbery at this term of the Court and sentenced to two and a half years imprisonment, made an attempt to escape on Friday morning of this week but was observed by several members of the Petit Jury, who had been deliberating on a case during the night when that body [illegible] broke from the charge of the bailiffs and [illegible] aided in capturing the prisoner and returning him to custody......At the meeting in aid of the Irish Relief fund on Wednesday evening, P O Kean was chosen chairman the following officers were appointed P Fox, Secretary David Wall, Treasurer The following committees were also appointed: On subscription, L. Kidd, J D. Healey and Edward O'Keane on resolutions, P Fox P Buckley and D. Wall. The chair then introduced S. J McCormick, of Portland, who, in his usual strain of eloquence, [illegible] to the audience to contribute their mite to aid the patriots in Ireland whom Irish Americans encourage to shake off the British yoke. The next speaker was Hon. C. Lancaster, who urged that now is the time for [illegible] to all their countrymen A series of resolutions, substantially the same as those adopted at the late meeting in Portland, was adopted After the adjournment, a collection was taken, which amounted to the liberal sum of $350

RELIGIOUS SERVICES BY REV MR EARLE.—The members of the Presbyterian, Congregational, Methodist and Baptist [illegible] met at the Courthouse yesterday to hear for the first time, the Rev A B Earle, a Protestant [illegible] of repute from the East The spacious chamber was crowded to its utmost, there being not less than [illegible] persons present He was introduced by [illegible], when he proceeded to state his mission [illegible] which he read and expounded the 7th chapter [illegible] and offered up a fervent prayer for the [illegible] After a hymn, sung by the entire congregation led by Mr Wadhams, he took for his text [illegible] chapter III verse 16, and was quite happy in [illegible] illustrations, frequently bringing tears to the [illegible]. At 2 o'clock he addressed the Sabbath children, and at 7 o'clock in the evening de[illegible] Mr Earle is a man about fifty years, tall, beardless, thin face of the Clay type and [illegible] attractive style His voice is sonorous and [illegible] His language is simple, and his metaphors [illegible]. From present indications, there is reason [illegible] that the object of his mission—to rouse up a [illegible] condition of religious feeling—will be accomplished. He will preach again to-day at the Presbyterian [illegible] at 3 P. M and at 7 P M.

ARRIVAL OF THE "IDAHO"—Our Saturday evening [illegible] from San Francisco says: The Idaho [illegible] at noon with the following passengers E H [illegible] and wife, M A McKie, Mr Coats, H Kays, [illegible] G H Lee, E S Pound, W H Bennett, M G Bal[illegible] Ballard, C Hopkins, Jas L McCown J [illegible] A W Sargent, J B Morriss, Robt Orr, F West, [illegible] H R [illegible] W B Sumner, L Rosenblatt, [illegible] L Beverage, H Corbitt, R C Done, O'Niel, [illegible] and wife, H Rogers, T Kersic, D H Alder [illegible] wife, S Frank, D Lyons, J P Brown, J C Harri[illegible] T White, J M Atkins, [illegible] Mrs Levy, Mrs C Levy, Mary Smith, I Good [illegible] wife, and three children, J A Abrams, Mr Ladd, [illegible] J G Reynolds and wife, Van Fridah, G J [illegible] P M Edwards and wife, J C Beard, J [illegible] J C Armstrong, Mrs Sargent, A W Folts, J A [illegible] J Vatt, J Gregory J D Matthews, E Rait, [illegible] Mrs M Robertson, G D Arcult, L Dallard, A J [illegible] Vots and wife and 98 others

[illegible] —Somebody, between 8 o'clock Saturday [illegible] and 9 o'clock Sunday morning, forced an entrance into our editorial room, by bursting off the door fastening. The object of this visit, during the absence of the attaches of the office, can only be surmised [illegible] person who called is extremely desirous of inquiring into the private affairs of this establishment and will [illegible] when we are in, we will cheerfully exhibit [illegible] correspondence, editorial scribblings, etc , as we [illegible] proper to show to a dirty, prowling sneak.

[illegible] Mr William Pickett, an old print of San [illegible], came up on the Ajax and will go on to Albany [illegible] with a view to negotiating with the stock [illegible] of the late Journal for reviving that paper, or, starting a new one with the material on hand. Mr. P [illegible] highly recommended by several well known Union men of San Francisco, as an intelligent [illegible], a good printer and a staunch, reliable Union [illegible] hope to be able soon to greet him in the field of [illegible]

LARGE STOCK OF GOODS.—Mr. L. Barman, who has [illegible] some weeks in San Francisco, purchasing goods, returned on the last steamer with a very large stock of [illegible] which the firm invite the special attention of [illegible]. It will be a difficult man, indeed, who cannot suit [illegible] both in goods and prices, at Barman [illegible] since this arrival. Take notice of Barman's offer [illegible] at twenty-five per cent lower than any other house in the State

[illegible]—The pantomime of the Red Gnome is still on the boards at the theater, the characters being filled by [illegible], Miss Soledad, Sprague, O'Neil, Miss Juanita, [illegible], Wilkie, etc A very good house was in attendance Saturday night and the piece went off quite [illegible]. Some of the tricks, the confusion of the White [illegible] (Thunder) the activity of the Gnome (Sprague) [illegible] tableaux elicit shouts of applause and [illegible]. It will be repeated to-night with an introduction of ballads, comic song and an interlude

[illegible] ON THE COLUMBIA.—The Mountaineer states [illegible] during the week ending Friday night, the 22d, the O. S. N. Co's boats from Portland, landed at the Dalles, [illegible] 800 head of cattle, 109 head of horses [illegible] 40 hogs and 250 head of sheep The same [illegible] an estimate from a gentleman who is posted in [illegible] that not less than $300,000 will be paid the [illegible] this season for cattle to be taken east of [illegible] Idaho

PASSENGER LIST —The Ajax brought three hundred and eighty passengers, among whom were one hundred and fifty Chinamen. Over half the number are [illegible] for points east of the mountains. Many of them, [illegible] are returning to Montana, having come down there last fall to spend the winter in the more genial [illegible] of California The migration from the latter [illegible] to the Northern mines may now be said to be fairly opened.

[illegible] FROM YAMHILL —The steamer Union, running [illegible] Oregon City and Lafayette, is doing a lively business in the line of produce freighting, coming down loaded every trip The freights up are not very small [illegible], and, altogether, the spring trade promises to be a [illegible] one, both for Yamhill county and the P. T. Co [illegible], who is a deservedly popular officer, is [illegible] of the Union.

[illegible] AT LOW WATER.—The steamer Ajax arrived at the mouth of the Willamette river early Saturday morning, but in consequence of low water, did not reach the wharf at Portland till about 11 o'clock P M The [illegible] and Julia brought up her passengers and a large [illegible] of her freight When she reached the wharf she was drawing about thirteen feet of water

[illegible]—The Fidelity, which sailed for [illegible] on Saturday evening had the following freight 307 [illegible] bacon, 14 pkgs mdse, 2,050 qr sks flour 100 sks oats, [illegible] bbls butter 200 boxes apples 8 hlf bbls eggs, 14 [illegible], 9 qrs fresh beef and 25 hlf bbls dried fruit

[illegible] SHIPMENTS —Arrived per steamer Alert [illegible] day, March 23 791 qr sks flour, 12 boxes produce [illegible] hlf bbls do, 2 pkgs vines, 1 300 qr sks flour 1 sk wheat, [illegible] chickens, 230 sks feed, 46 iron axles, 23 sks bacon [illegible] bales woolen goods.

[illegible]—W B Carter, of the Corvallis Gazette, called upon us Saturday evening Bro Carter looks blooming and he represents his part of the vineyard as being in an unusually prosperous condition

TO BE DISCHARGED —First Lieut. McDougal of the 1st U S Cavalry, arrived a day or two since at Fort Vancouver with a detachment of soldiers whose term of service has expired and who are to be discharged

SAILS ON FIRE.—While the Falkinburg was at anchor at Astoria, about 6 o'clock Friday evening her sails were [illegible] to be on fire The flames were however extinguished without serious damage

SOWING SEED BY THE WAYSIDE —Rev Mr Earle who came up [illegible] by the Ajax, delivered a sermon at Astoria while the ship lay to at that port This may be called "sowing seed by the wayside"

GUN CARRIAGES.—The last steamer brought up six heavy gun carriages for the thunderers at Fort Stevens and Cape Disappointment They were landed at Astoria

NEWS FAVORS.—From McCormick we have a bundle of late papers, pictorials and magazines Among the latter is the Atlantic Monthly for March

[illegible] COMING —The Idaho now on her way to this port, has on board, two companies of the 14th Infantry, for the post at Fort Vancouver

THE CONTINENTAL.—This steamship has been substituted for the Continental, in the San Francisco and Portland trade. She sailed on Saturday

[illegible]—The Ajax will sail for San Francisco on Wednesday at 9 o'clock A. M. We notice that cabin fare is [illegible] down to $20.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—We clip the following items from the Enterprise of the 23d Mr J W Lewis is making a set of ladders for city use in case of fire, on an order from the city council On Saturday last a few of the members of the Clackamas Base Ball Club met at the field and played a few runs They will be on the Alert for a [illegible] test this summer We learn that models for [illegible] stern wheel steamers to ply on the Willamette river have been sent to the East as patterns for boats to be made and shipped for the P T Company The past has been a busy week in Oregon City The streets have been well filled with teams and pedestrians The stores and shops well filled with people all of whom seemed eager to buy something also We have not found any one in our travels around town who complained of trade being dull We have never seen business more lively in the city and if we had all the money received by our dealers we would try to find time to go fishing or sailing We learn that, notwithstanding the general stagnation of business and scarcity of money the stock of the Oregon City Oil Manufacturing Company is being rapidly taken up Our citizens feel the pressure in money matters, but they see the advantages of the investment and act accordingly The farmers see the point too and are taking stock Pursuant to notice a number of persons met together at the Court House in this city on Tuesday evening to take into consideration the practicability of again resuscitating the Clackamas County Agricultural Society On motion Mr Wm Elliott Vice President of the Society was appointed chairman of a committee consisting of himself, Messrs Harrison Wright Joseph Young Christian Dierdorff Peter M Rhinearson J C Trullinger and Capt A F Hedges to make all the necessary arrangements for holding a Fair in this county the ensuing fall Letters were read from various parties in Multnomah county Washington county and Yamhill county assuring the Society of a co operation in a District Organization The general feeling seemed to be in favor of each county holding the Fair annually in its turn; that as this county had made the start, the first Fair be held on the Society's grounds here The meeting adjourned in harmony and the committee appointed as above will meet together in this city on the afternoon of Tuesday April 2d, 1867

AMPUTATION —Mr Duval who had a leg crushed by the falling of a tree on the 17th inst , suffered amputation of the limb on Saturday afternoon Dr Chapman, assisted by Dr Hart performed the operation

AT HOME —Here we are again—on hand with one of the largest stocks that ever found its way into the city of Portland We do not make this boast without being able to substantiate it. On and after this day we shall sell custom made clothing twenty five per cent cheaper than any other house in the State This gives a good show for the poor the rich the tall, the small the lean the fat, to procure suits of clothing of Barman Bros at such low figures as must satisfy one and all We are established on either side of Front street—one establishment at the corner of Morrison and Front—formerly the City of Paris Store—and the other on the river side between Arrigoni's Hotel and the American Exchange

WHY THE FAMILY DYE COLORS ARE USED —The celebrated Family Dye Colors of Howe & Stevens are in almost universal use—first because they are the best in market second they cost but little, third can be used in any household with the ordinary utensils of the kitchen, fourth, include every color that is wanted, never injure the most delicate fabric; sixth, save the necessity of getting new garments —Sold by Smith & Davis

My Creed.

I hold that Christian grace abounds
  Where charity is seen; that when
We climb to Heaven, 'tis on the rounds
  Of love to men.

I hold all else, named piety
  A selfish scheme, a vain pretense,
Where centre is not—can there be Circumference?

This I moreover hold, and dare
  Affirm where'er my rhyme may go,
Whatever things be sweet or fair,
  Love makes them so.

Whether it be the lullabies
  That charm to rest the nursling bird,
Or that sweet confidence of sighs
  And blushes, made without a word

Whether the dazzling and the flush
  Of softly sumptuous garden bowers,
Or by some cabin door, or bush
  Of ragged flowers.

'Tis not the wide phylactery,
  Nor stubborn fast, nor stated prayers,
That make us saints, we judge the tree
  By what it bears.

And when a man can live apart
  From works, on theologic trust,
I know the blood about his heart
  Is dry as dust.

Alice Cary

LETTER FROM YAQUINA BAY.

YAQUINA BAY, March 17, 1867.

These sunny days seem to inspire everybody with renewed activity, and give a new impetus to business of every kind. Recently a number of persons from the "Valley" have been in here hunting for "claims." The healthful climate of the coast, the great abundance of game, oysters and fish, and the novelty of a "home by the deep blue sea," are the principal attractions that induce them to come. Well, there is still room for more people, more enterprise and more capital to develop the wealth and resources of the place.

OYSTERING

Is the chief business of the Bay. The oysters were first discovered by the Indians, who frequently found them entangled with their hooks and lines, while fishing. Seeing white men gathering them in Netarch, a small bay a few miles south of Tillamook, the Indians told them there were plenty of just such things in Yaquina Bay. So, in 1861, a party of white men came down from Netarch and prospected where the Indians directed, and found oysters in great abundance. In 1862, the schooner Cornelius Terry, Capt Hill Kar, the first vessel that ever floated upon the waters of this bay, came in for a load of oysters. It soon grew into a trade of considerable importance, and although they are not so plentiful as when first discovered, yet there are 10,000 bushels shipped away from here yearly, producing each year, to the parties who gather them, over seventeen thousand dollars. The common way of gathering oysters is with tongs. Oyster tongs are made of two iron-toothed rakes—somewhat similar to a garden rake—with long, flattened handles riveted together, three to six feet above the rakes, and are used like long-handled pincers. They are from 10 to 20 feet in length, according to the depth of water in which they are to be used. Each oysterman has a small boat which he anchors upon the "bed" in which he stands to bring up his oysters. A peck or more may be gathered up at a time with this instrument. So many oysters have died in the lapse of time that nine-tenths of what is tonged up are shells, from which the oysters are culled. These shells, to which are attached young oysters and spawn, are planted in artificial beds, where, if they do well, in a few years will be found fine oysters. Another and more speedy way of taking oysters is by dredging. An oyster dredge is a heavy iron rake, with an iron frame-work in front, by which it is drawn and kept in position, and a chain or link net attached to the hind part of the rake so that when it is drawn forward, the teeth scrape up the oysters and they fall over the top of the rake into the net. Dredging is generally done by sailing vessels, which sail forward and back over the oyster beds, dragging these instruments by long cables. Each vessel usually has two, so that while one is being drawn up and emptied, the other is being filled. But a more expeditious mode of dredging than that of the use of sail vessels has been discovered here on the Yaquina, and we are now catching oysters by steam. Dr. Kellogg is now using his steamboat for dredging, and is eminently successful. This is probably the first instance in which a steam boat has ever been used for catching oysters.

THE STEAMER "PIONEER"

was built at Milwaukie about seven years ago. She ran for some time between Portland and the Cascades in opposition to the O. S. N. Company, but finally had to yield that trade to her more powerful and wealthy rival. She was then brought around by sea to this bay in the summer of 1864, and is the first and only steamer that has ever rippled the quiet waters of Yaquina bay. Here she has undisputed sway and runs without a rival. In summer she does a nice little business in carrying passengers from the head of tide navigation to the beach, and in the winter is very useful in dredging oysters. Though rather old and somewhat dilapidated, yet it is pleasant to hear the loud scream of her steam whistle, and to see her gracefully gliding up and down our little bay.

YAQUINA

Is an Indian name, and signifies everywhere. How this small river and bay happened to receive so singular a name from these sons of the forest, is not known. Both the river and bay are exceedingly crooked, zigzagging here and there and "everywhere!" Hence, some suppose this to be the origin of the name. P. W. G.

OLD FRIENDS MEET.—At the table of the National Exchange Hotel, a day or two since, says the Nevada Transcript, an incident occurred which serves to illustrate how old friends are sometimes brought together. Two men were seated on opposite sides of the table, and after the usual talk about the weather, a discussion arose as to which had eaten the largest number of [illegible]. From this the conversation led to inquiries as regard to ages, nativity, etc. One party was fifty-eight and the other fifty-six years of age. The conversation showed that both men were from Snow Creek, Murray county, Tennessee, and that in boyhood, almost a half century ago, they were playmates. At the beginning of Life's journey, their paths separated, and now, almost at its close, they meet. What a flood of reminiscences of old times such meetings must bring to mind.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—How pleasant and spirit-stirring was a celebration of the Fourth of July as it was conducted in Webster's early day! We trust the old custom will be revived and improved upon, and become universal. Nor is it any objection to the practice of having an oration that the population is too large to be reached in that way; for if only a thousand hear, a million may read. Nor ought we to object if the orator is a little more flowery and boastful than becomes an ordinary occasion. There is a time to exult, there is a time to abandon ourselves to pleasant emotions and joyous hopes. Therefore, we say, let the young men reappear upon the platform, and show what metal they are made of by giving the best utterance they can to the patriotic feelings of the people on the national anniversary. The Republic is safe so long as we celebrate that day in the spirit of 1776 and 1861.

STUDY OF THE BIBLE.—Looking at the Bible merely as a historical fact, as a power in the world, which has influenced the opinions, and directed the life, and quickened the heart of millions, which has been inspiration to the greatest minds of the race; which has lifted up nations from barbarism, which has been the spring of that philanthropy which is the boast of civilization, and which is now the professed guide of three hundred millions of our fellow men; surely these facts, apart from any consideration of its Divine origin, of its claims to be a revelation from God, diligent study, from any one who would be considered a well informed and intelligent man.

BISHOP DOANE'S DEFINITION OF A GENTLEMAN.—A gentleman is but a gentleman—no more no less; a diamond polished that was a diamond in the rough; a gentleman is gentle, a gentleman is modest, a gentleman is courteous, a gentleman is generous; a gentleman is slow to take offense, as being one that never gives it; a gentleman is slow to surmise evil, as being one that never thinks it, a gentleman goes armed only in consciousness of right; a gentleman subjects his appetite, a gentleman refines his taste, a gentleman subdues his feelings; a gentleman controls his speech; and finally a gentleman deems every other better than himself.

Self-culture, says Channing, is practical, it proposes, as one of its chief ends, to fit us for action to make us efficient in whatever we undertake, to train us to firmness of purpose and to faithfulness, of resource in common life, and especially in emergencies, in times of difficulty, danger and trial.

FROM MONTANA.

From the Montana Post of the 23d February we have the following

HORRIBLE MURDER.

The city was startled yesterday about 1 P. M., by the information that a man was lying about three fourths of a mile north of the town, shot through the head, and had been dead some time. There was an immense rush of people to the place. After a preliminary examination of the deceased man, the body was conveyed to the city, and the jury adjourned to meet in the Probate court-room at half past four P. M., when the inquest was held in secret. The deceased was named William McLothlin, was a laboring man, about 25 years of age, and unmarried. He came here from Lawrence, Kansas, where his parents reside, during last autumn, and has since been employed as a common laborer in such occupation as he could find. He, in company with another man, occupied a cabin on Jackson street, near the upper end of town. He was temperate in his habits, and had no personal enmity with any one. On Thursday last, his cabin was closed, and no one knew anything of him until he was found to day by Mr McCloskey. When found, he was lying on his face with a bullet hole in his head, the ball entering through the back part and lodged in the brain. The hat was still on his head, and where the bullet passed through was powder burned. Upon a close examination of the body, a navy revolver, with all the chambers loaded, was found upon him. In his pocket was $5 15 in currency, which, it is supposed, is all the money he had. His pockets had not been disturbed, nor was there any signs of a struggle in the snow. He lay almost perfectly straight on the ground, and had not moved from the position in which he fell. The suggestion of suicide is an impossibility. There are two tracks in the snow to the place where he lay—but one away from it. This, also, explodes the suggestion of his having been murdered in the city, and conveyed there. The entire affair is, as yet, shrouded in almost impenetrable mystery, and it is to be hoped that the coroner's jury will elicit information that may lead to the detection of whoever committed the brutal deed.

THE ELECTION

The contest for the Mayoralty was quite exciting, and engrossed the attention of quite a number of the talking fraternity during the day. The two candidates were neck and neck until half an hour of the closing of the polls, when Castner lapped over Lee slightly and reached the winning post an inch or two ahead. We hope he may enjoy the laurels, as well as he deserves. The following is the vote cast: Castner, 230, Lee, 225, Hughes, 3, Ohio, 1, Total, 463. Castner's majority, 10.

STRUCK IT RICH.

We were informed yesterday that the owners of the Lucas lode have found the realization of their fondest hopes, at a depth of one hundred feet. It will be recollected that some time since, they paid $30,000 for the discovery claim on that lode. The shaft was then forty five feet deep. Seven feet deeper the vein dwindled out to a vein of barren rock, not thicker than a man's thumb, this they followed down a depth of forty feet without striking the color. On Friday their prospects were doleful. On Saturday the vein suddenly widened out to the full width of the shaft of splendid ore. During this time they have been working on the "stoppings" from the first fifty feet. Now they will immediately go to work on the lower level, with splendid prospects, and deserve success for their energy and perseverance.

GAINING.

The Postlewait mill made another clean up on Sunday morning. The run was seven and a half days; rock crushed Kearsarge, amount, about 100 tons; yield, $3906 90. The blanket tailings, which it is believed will average $8 per ton, are not included in this yield. The entire expenses of the mill and mine, per week, are about $650. The leakage in the housing has been stopped by inserting blanket packing between the timbers. The machinery is driven directly from the counter shaft which drives the battery, by a short vertical belt and tightening pully. This is an innovation on the old method and is said to give entire satisfaction. The cake of retort, weighing 222 oz 1 pwt. 18 grs, is on exhibition at Hussey, Dahler & Co.

ANOTHER BIG CLEAN UP.

Turnley's "Little Giant" mill cleaned up on last Thursday, $6,424 45 from ninety tons of rock from Whitlatch Union ore, being an average of $71 33 per ton. This is one of the largest runs yet made, but one exceeding it, that being $8,420 from one hundred and three tons of ore. Judging from the above returns, we should say that both the lead and the mill continue to keep up their reputation.

HENDRY'S MILL.

Hendry's eighteen stamp mill, situated in Grizzly Gulch, cleaned up on last Saturday, $4,392 from six days' run on second class ore, from the Whitlatch Union Lode. This does not include the "skimmings" which will probably swell the amount to over $5,000.

A SELF-FORGETFUL CLERGYMAN.—The Lacon (Ill.) Home Journal tells the following good story, and vouches for its literal truth.

Brother B—— is one of our city pastors, and an earnest disciple of the church militant, beloved and respected by all. One Sabbath not long since, an unusually busy week having prevented a due preparation of his Sunday sermon, he arose in the morning and fell vigorously at work upon it. Breakfast and the labors of the toilet were dispatched mechanically, his mind still intent upon the labor in hand, and when the hour of service approached he came down stairs properly arrayed as he supposed for the occasion, meeting his wife at the door, who asked his destination.

"Why, to church, of course," was the reply.

"Well," said she, "I think you had better put on your breeches first."

In his self-forgetfulness the good brother was actually going to the house of God minus his inexpressibles.

CHOICE OF FRIENDS.—We should ever have it fixed in our memories that by the characters of those whom we choose for our friends our own is likely to be formed, and certainly be judged by the world. We ought, therefore, to be slow and cautious in contracting intimacy, but when a virtuous friendship is once established, we must ever consider it as a sacred engagement.

Fountain of Life!

THE

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARrive, when a new direction is imparted to its course. These epochs [illegible] from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of

SCROFULA AND KING'S EVIL!

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts, it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance.

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world. No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept into their graves who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial, and not been found wanting.

☞ Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made—provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured.

FOR REFERENCE:

I would refer you to L. L. Peck of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE!

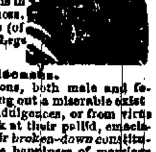
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES,

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz.: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 282.

Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Diseases and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney St., cor. Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 282.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian (or Weekly Oregonian, as the case may be.)

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

THESE WHEELS, unequaled and unrivaled in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast more than forty being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c. &c.

On account of the extraordinary demand, our stock of wheels is considerably reduced and we are entirely out of several sizes; therefore parties contemplating using our wheel, to be certain of securing them in time, should give their order at least three months before they expect to get them, that we may be able to make them by the time needed.

We cheerfully refer to all using our wheels, and are assured that all will affirm that our wheels accomplish all and even more than we claim for them. Address
